Jesus took Peter, James, and John and led them up a high mountain apart by themselves. And he was transfigured before them, and his clothes became dazzling white, such as no fuller on earth could bleach them. - Mk 9:2-3

Tanzanian priest feels the love serving here

By Yadira Betances Muldoon
MethuenLife Writer

The distance between Methuen and Tanzania is close to 8,000 miles, but the Rev. Joseph Chacha Marwa has made the sacrifice to serve God's people in the Archdiocese of Boston.

Marwa, 45, is serving as temporary parochial vicar at St. Monica and St. Lucy Parishes until the end of May.

A priest for 12 years with the Society of African Missionaries, Marwa is using his time at St. Monica and St. Lucy to celebrate Mass, preach, and visit the homebound and the sick bringing them Holy Communion.

"They are very attentive people," Marwa said of parishioners at St. Monica and St. Lucy. "They have welcomed me to their home as one of their own."

While he enjoys celebrating the Eucharist, preaching and teaching, one role he likes most as a priest is being with the people, which he said goes hand-in-hand with his favorite Bible verse, "Do unto others as you would have them do to you" from the Gospel of Matthew.

"I feel good when I can make someone smile or make their day better. It all begins there and when they see that, they see the reflection of Christ just as I see Christ's image in them," Marwa said.

In introducing Marwa to the congregation, Pastor Bill Lohan wrote in the parish bulletin how it may be hard to imagine living and working in a country so different from our own.

"Though priests who have given up having their own nuclear families for the sake of our kingdom have a special claim, I propose to you that those who make this sacrifice so far from their native land have an even greater claim to that love and support," said Lohan, who had known the missionaries while serving in Dedham.

The Society of African Missionaries was founded in Lyons, France, in 1856 and members come from Africa, Asia, Europe and America and many of the older priests in the order are from Ireland.

Born in Tanzania, a country in Eastern Africa, Marwa is one of seven children. He is proficient in English, French, Swahili and several Zambian dialects.

Marwa credits his parents' deep Catholic faith for his desire to become a priest. In fact his grandfather, who was a cattle trader, ceded part of his land to Maryknoll priests to build a church.

When asked why he wanted to be a priest, he admits "There was no straight answer."

While the ministry was always on the back of his mind, he thought of becoming a teacher. He joined the minor seminary to discern a call to ministry, but left and enrolled in a public school. It was then that Marwa said his love for ministry "came back very strong."

Finally, he joined the Society of African Missionaries in 1996 and was sent to Kenya.

"It wasn't easy to make that decision, but I said, 'If this is God's plan, let me try,'" he said.

He was ordained in 2005 in the Diocese of Shinyanga, Tanzania.

"On my ordination I was very happy because all my family was there and I had a feeling of fulfillment, gratefulness, responsibility and the beginning of another adventure telling the Lord, 'Here I am,'" he said.

During Marwa's years as a priest, he has served as a missionary in Tanzania, Liberia and Zambia.

He first came to the United States in 2014 to speak during Mission Appeal weekend in parishes in Louisiana, Michigan, New York, Chicago and Springfield, Mass. Marwa spent two months last summer at St. Margaret and St. Mary Parishes in Westwood. He had previously lived in the Society of African Missionaries regional house in Needham as he is now assigned to the Archdiocese of Boston.

FORMED PICK OF THE WEEK

Lectio: Prayer

“God, are you there?”

How often do we feel like our prayer is a one-sided conversation? In this moving and informative presentation on the art of Lectio Divina, Dr. Tim Gray reveals how praying with Scripture can be a powerful means of entering into an authentic dialogue and intimate encounter with God.

Watch on formed.org

“Makes understanding HOW to pray much more clear... I now understand why many “prayers” have gone unanswered— I simply talked AT God instead of listening first and then responding... Great course.”

—Michael A, Clarksburg, MD

ST. MONICA SCHOOL

Congratulations to all of our eighth grade students who have been accepted to the high schools of their choice. We are most proud of them. In March those who applied will hear from the independent schools. Our students are prepared for high school and like all of us here at St. Monica School, the high schools will be most pleased with their academic work and with their moral and social skills. Well done teachers and parents!

The schools our children have been accepted to and/or will be attending are: Central Catholic High School, Presentation of Mary Academy, Austin Prep, St. John’s Prep, Notre Dame Cristo Rey, Academy of Notre Dame, Greater Lawrence Vocational Technical High School, Wachusett Regional High School, Windham High School, Methuen High School and Pinkerton Academy. Students are waiting to hear from Phillips Academy, Brooks School and The Groton School.
